“I had Simsite impellers on LNG carriers. Best material I have ever seen. Impellers with unlimited life time. During several Dry Docks I have witnessed overhaul of different sea water pumps with Simsite impellers. There was just some marine growth. No damage at all. It is very light material which is easy for handling. It is several time lighter then bronze or SS316 steel. Consequently safer for work. No other material can be compared. Excellent experience. Strongly recommend to everyone.”
